Jairus was a synagogue official. He disliked people like Jesus who, in his opinion, was a renegade Jew. Jairus disagreed with everything Jesus stood for. In fact, Jairus thought Jesus to be a threat to all Israel. How then could he go to Jesus and ask for help? The answer was simple: his daughter was dying. Jairus put aside his prejudice for his daughter's well-being. Jairus traded dignity for humility. Jairus swallowed his pride. He did this because he wanted his daughter to live. Let's not wait for a dire situation to hit before we get rid of our prejudice. If there's someone you dislike - stop it! I can't imagine what it took for Jairus to ask Jesus for this most special favor. Maybe there was a second miracle that day. Not only did Jesus raise the little girl, but He also healed Jairus of his prejudicial ways.

A VIEW FROM THE PEW, MAYBE IT'S TIME TO LISTEN.

Thomas Craughwell of the National Catholic Register reviewed a book "How the Church Influenced (and still can) Western Civilization" authored by William Slattery. In his review he mentioned the exploits of Saint Boniface (c.680-754). He was a missionary who brought the Catholic faith and culture to then barbarian Germany. He did something missionaries rarely did in the Dark Ages, listen. He would sit down with pagan priests and give them the opportunity to explain what they believed and why, then and only after they finished, he would point out the faults of their arguments and explain the beauty and truth of the Catholic faith. The simple act of listening can diffuse a tense situation, convert a doubter or just result in a more pleasant discussion of a problem. All of us can do a better job of listening. It worked for St. Boniface, why not give it a try!

ST. PATRICK'S FESTIVAL 2018 will take place Friday, July 6th from 4 - 9; Saturday, July 7th from 2 - 10, and Sunday, July 8th from 9AM - 1:00 PM. Be sure to take a chance on the raffle worth over $2,000.00
